FARMER BECOMES DANISH PREMIER

Rise to Power of One Who Has Proved Working Man

Fit to Rule.

IS PRACTICALLY A DICTATOR.

For Centuries His Ancestors Had Lived On One Small
Farm.

COPENHAGEN, July 25.—J. C. Christensen, Premier of Denmark, Minister of War and Marine as well, is one of the most remarkable men in Europe.
Born on a small farm in a desolate part of Denmark of poor parents, in a public career of only fourteen years he not only rose to the highest position in the land, but demonstrated the final triumph of the downtrodden and despised class from which he sprung.

The coming into power of Christensen is said to be due to luck. He was one of the minor leaders in the efforts of the Opposition, or Left, to overthrow what was known as the "Professor regime," during which the rulers of Denmark, which had in 1848 become a constitutional monarchy, were driven from the ranks of the professors and scientists. The real leader of the revolt of the common people was Christen Berg, but just when the back of his powerful opponents had been broken and he was about to reap the reward, he died. Christensen jumped into the breach, was made Minister of Education and four years later Premier and Minister of War and Marine.

It is utterly impossible for any one outside of Denmark who does not understand the gap that separates the peasant born and the academically graduated, royal official to realize the full significance of Christensen's rise to power. Today he is to all intents and purposes a dictator, whereas for generations upon generations the farming class among which he was born and bred, and which he today represents, have been trodden under the heel, despite the fact that they form considerably more than half of the population of the country.

Although Berg and his associates in the leadership of the opposition proved that they were masters of the game of politics, it remained for Christensen to demonstrate that the yeomanry class was capable of governing. And he has demonstrated it beyond the shadow of a doubt by his enormous energy, his efficiency and his clear view of practical affairs.

This remarkable man was born in Jutland fifty-two years ago. There is every reason to believe that his ancestors had lived on the same farm in uninterrupted possession for centuries. There are many farms like this in Denmark, which owe their escape from the clutches of the nobility to the fact that they are too barren and desolate to repay seizure. It is from these freemen's farms, especially in Jutland, that the opposition has secured its recruits.

As a young man Christensen showed an inclination toward study and a love of knowledge. So he was sent by his people to an academy for young peasants. Later he became a teacher in a popular country school and remained there until work in the Rigsdag, to which he had been elected, forced him to give it up. In the legislative chamber he quickly made himself known by an insatiable desire for work. After only ten years in the Rigsdag he became Minister of Education and later succeeded to his present post.

Personally Christensen is a thickset man. His large head is capped with a great mass of tow hair. There is a tinge of gray here and there, but his fifty-two years have not brought any diminution in his forcefulness and enthusiasm. He is a this flat-topped desk twelve hours of the day and sometimes far into the night. He throws off the work of his triple office with ease, and insists upon attending to a great deal of the detail work of each. His associates declare that if he had his way Christensen would administer every office of the Cabinet himself.

BACKACHE.

Delicate women who are subject to nervous spells, backache, bearing-down and periodical pains, take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and find in them a pleasant and sure relief. They cure by their soothing influence upon the nervous system. They do not affect the bowels in the slightest degree, and are perfectly harmless. 25 doses, 50c. Never sold in bulk.

Doctors know that tea and coffee contain poisonous alkaloids that are very injurious to the system, and forbid nervous people to drink them.

But the same doctors will recommend Primo Beer, because, in the malted barley and hop extract, are predigested food and the best malt tonic.

The small amount of alcohol in Primo Beer—less than three per cent—is not enough to class it as a spirituous liquor. It is simply a sane, safe, and healthful beverage.

YOU WANT The News First.

You Want Your Ads Read

Here Is Some Advice—

Honolulu more than any other city in the World, is a place where the Evening Paper gets the news first. The clock here is over two hours behind the clock at San Francisco, four hours behind Chicago, five hours behind New York and ten to eleven hours behind the clocks in the European capitals.

This means that when The Star is going to press THE DAY IS CLOSED in Washington, Chicago, New York and Europe and almost over in San Francisco.
The news of the day is here for The Star.

Under modern conditions it takes practically no time to prepare and transmit news and THE STAR gets every evening the cable dispatches giving

The News Of All the World

For The Day Just Ended—

Here are some of the features that go to make the evening paper the predominating factor in an advertising campaign:

It is delivered at the home each night when the whole family has plenty of time to read it.

It is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it stays there. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The evening paper is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all the advertisements receive their share of attention.

It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

The evening paper presents the news the day it happens. The morning paper the day after.

The evening paper presents the news first. The morning paper merely elaborates it.

The evening paper prints daylight news. The morning paper takes what is left.
